Aurora Systems Employee Handbook

Version 2026.1. Confidential: for employees of Aurora Systems only.

1. Welcome and scope

This handbook applies to every full-time and part-time employee of Aurora Systems Private Limited in India. It explains working hours, leave, benefits, expenses, conduct and the process for leaving the company. Contractors and interns are covered only by the sections that say so.

Where this handbook and an individual employment letter disagree, the employment letter prevails. The People Operations team reviews the handbook every April, and changes take effect on the first day of the following month after they are announced by email.

2. Working hours and attendance

The standard working week is 40 hours, from Monday to Friday. Core hours are 10:30 to 16:00, when every employee is expected to be reachable. Outside core hours you may start work between 8:00 and 11:00 and finish after completing eight hours including a 45 minute lunch break.

Attendance is recorded in the Aurora Time app. If you arrive after 11:00 on more than three days in a calendar month without approval, your manager will have a documented conversation with you. Repeated late arrival after that conversation can affect your performance rating.

Overtime is not paid for employees in grades G3 and above. Employees in grades G1 and G2 who work more than 45 hours in a week are paid compensatory time off at one and a half times the extra hours, which must be taken within 60 days.

3. Leave entitlements

Leave is credited on the first of January for the calendar year. Employees who join during the year receive leave in proportion to the number of full months remaining. The entitlement for each type of leave is shown in the table below.

Annual leave of up to 10 days can be carried forward into the next year. Anything above 10 days lapses on 31 March. At exit, up to 15 days of unused annual leave are paid out at the basic daily rate. Sick leave and casual leave cannot be carried forward or paid out.

Sick leave of more than two consecutive days needs a medical certificate from a registered doctor. Maternity leave is 26 weeks for the first two children and 12 weeks for any further child. Paternity leave is 10 working days and must be taken within six months of the birth.

Leave type	Days per year	Carry forward	Notes
Annual leave	24	Up to 10 days	Encashable at exit up to 15 days
Sick leave	12	No	Certificate after 2 consecutive days
Casual leave	6	No	Maximum 3 days at a time
Study leave	8	No	For examinations only
Bereavement leave	5	No	Immediate family
Marriage leave	5	No	Once during employment

4. Company holidays for 2026

Aurora Systems observes twelve holidays in 2026, listed in the table below. Two of them are floating holidays that each employee chooses from the festival calendar published in January. Floating holidays must be chosen at least 14 days in advance.

If a holiday falls on a weekend, no replacement day is given, except for the Year-end shutdown day, which is always taken on 24 December.

Date	Holiday
1 January	New Year's Day
26 January	Republic Day
12 March	Aurora Foundation Day
1 May	Labour Day
17 July	Annual Wellness Day
15 August	Independence Day
9 September	Founders' Day
2 October	Gandhi Jayanti
24 December	Year-end shutdown day
25 December	Christmas Day
Floating	Festival day 1
Floating	Festival day 2

5. Remote and hybrid work

Most teams follow a hybrid model with three office days each week. Managers decide which days, and the whole team should normally be in the office on the same days. Employees who live more than 60 kilometres from their assigned office may request a fully remote arrangement from their department head.

Every employee may work remotely from anywhere in India for up to 20 days a year, in blocks of no more than 10 consecutive days. Working from outside India needs written approval from People Operations at least 30 days ahead, because of tax and data protection rules.

Remote employees receive an internet allowance of 1,000 rupees per month, paid with salary, and a one-time home office grant of 12,000 rupees for a chair or desk, claimable once every four years.

6. Probation and confirmation

New employees serve a probation period of six months. During probation either side may end employment with 15 days of written notice. Confirmation is decided by the manager and People Operations in the sixth month, based on a structured review against the goals set during onboarding.

Probation can be extended once, by up to three months, if the manager records specific reasons and shares them with the employee. After confirmation the notice period becomes 60 days for grades G1 to G5, and 90 days for grades G6 to G8.

7. Performance reviews

Performance is reviewed twice a year, in June and in December. Each review has three steps: a self assessment, a manager assessment, and a calibration meeting where managers compare ratings across teams to keep them consistent.

Ratings run from 1 (does not meet expectations) to 5 (outstanding). Only about 10 percent of employees in a department may receive a 5. A rating of 1 or 2 in two consecutive reviews starts a formal 90 day improvement plan.

Annual bonus is linked to the December review. The target bonus is a percentage of annual basic salary, set by grade, and is paid in the March payroll.

8. Compensation and benefits

Salary is paid on the last working day of each month. The provident fund contribution is 12 percent of basic salary from both employee and employer. Gratuity is paid after five years of continuous service, as required by law.

Every employee, their spouse and up to two children are covered by group health insurance with a sum insured of 5 lakh rupees. Parents can be added for a premium paid by the employee. Dental and vision care are not covered, but a wellness allowance of 6,000 rupees a year can be used for them.

A joining bonus, where offered, must be repaid in full if the employee resigns within 12 months of joining, and repaid in half if the employee resigns between 12 and 18 months.

9. Expenses and travel

Business expenses must be approved in advance by your manager and claimed in the Aurora Expense app within 30 days of the expense. Receipts are required for every item above 500 rupees. Claims submitted after 60 days are rejected unless the finance team approves an exception.

Travel limits depend on grade. The table in section 17 sets the daily meal allowance, the hotel cap and the permitted class of travel for each grade. Trips of more than five nights need approval from a department head.

Personal expenses, fines and alcohol are never reimbursed. Reimbursement is paid with the next monthly salary if the claim is approved before the 20th of the month.

10. Learning and development

Each employee has a learning budget of 40,000 rupees per financial year for courses, books, conferences and certifications. Unused budget does not carry forward. Courses must be relevant to the employee's current or planned role and are approved by the manager.

Professional certifications costing more than 25,000 rupees are reimbursed on completion, but the employee must stay for 12 months afterwards or repay the amount in proportion to the months not served. Study leave of up to 8 days a year is available for examinations.

11. Equipment and acceptable use

Every employee receives a laptop that is replaced after 36 months. Developers and designers receive a higher specification model. Lost or stolen equipment must be reported to the IT service desk within 24 hours, and a police report is needed for theft.

Company devices must use full disk encryption and automatic screen lock after five minutes. Personal use is allowed if it is occasional and legal, but software that has not been approved by IT may not be installed. Company data may not be copied to personal cloud storage.

12. Code of conduct

Employees are expected to act honestly, treat colleagues with respect, and protect company and customer information. Gifts from suppliers or customers worth more than 2,000 rupees must be declined or handed to People Operations. Gifts below that value must still be recorded in the gift register if they are given during a tender.

A possible conflict of interest, such as a family member working for a competitor or a second job, must be disclosed to your manager and People Operations within seven days of the situation arising. Working for a competitor while employed by Aurora is not allowed.

13. Anti-harassment and grievances

Aurora Systems does not tolerate harassment, bullying or discrimination. Complaints can be made to the Internal Committee in writing or by email to the confidential mailbox, within 90 days of the incident, although late complaints are considered when there is a good reason.

The committee acknowledges a complaint within three working days and completes its investigation within 60 days. Retaliation against anyone who makes a complaint in good faith is a disciplinary offence. For other workplace concerns, employees can use the grievance process, which starts with the manager and then goes to the department head and People Operations.

14. Resignation and exit

Resignations must be given in writing to the manager and People Operations. The notice period in your letter applies, and a buy-out of up to 30 days of notice is possible with the approval of the department head, in which case the employee pays the basic salary for the days bought out.

During notice, the employee completes a handover document, returns all equipment on the last working day, and attends an exit interview. The full and final settlement, including leave encashment, is paid within 45 days of the last working day.

15. Employee data and privacy

People Operations keeps personal data, such as bank details and identity documents, only for employment purposes. Records are kept for seven years after an employee leaves, and are then securely deleted. Employees can ask to see or correct their own data by emailing the privacy desk.

Background checks are carried out only with written consent and by an approved vendor. Health information shared for leave or insurance is visible only to People Operations and is never shared with managers.

16. Office directory

Aurora Systems has eight offices in India. Visitors must be registered in advance by an employee, and must show photo identification at reception. The capacity and reception hours of each office are shown in the table below.

City	Capacity	Reception hours	Parking
